Also, non-resident shareholders may benefit from a different, more favourable tax rate, in accordance with the provisions of the Tax Code and the double taxation conventions concluded between Romania and the state of residence of the respective shareholder, on the basis of the tax residence certificate valid at the date of payment of the dividends and submitted by the non-resident shareholder, at the latest on the date of payment of the dividends.*

From 1 January 2023, according to Article 43 para. (5) of the Tax Code, as amended by Government Ordinance no. 16/2022, dividends distributed/paid to privately administered pension funds and/or voluntary pension funds are no longer exempt from withholding tax on dividends, but are subject to tax at a rate of 8% on the gross dividend.

If the verification of the tax residence certificate and the provisions of the double taxation convention result in the application of the more favourable rate provided for in the double taxation convention, then on the payment date, 23 June 2023, such shareholders will receive the net dividends with the application of that rate. Otherwise, the current standard rate provided by the Romanian Tax Code will be applied.*
